An opportunity for parents, residents and others interested in the future of the schools in the town to view the proposed plans to improve the accommodation for Attleborough pupils.

Norfolk County Council is proposing a reorganisation of the Primary Phase schools in Attleborough. If approved this will see both Attleborough Infants school and Attleborough Junior school becoming all-through Primary schools. To make this possible a significant capital investment is available for both schools. The plan is to relocate Attleborough Infants School to a new site in the south of the town and to remodel and extend the current Junior school so that it has suitable accommodation for Reception Year and Year 1 and 2 pupils.

Design teams from NPS Property Consultants Ltd have been working closely with both schools and with the County Council on possible solutions. A scheme for each of the schools has now been developed, which we would now like to share with you before we move onto submitting planning applications.

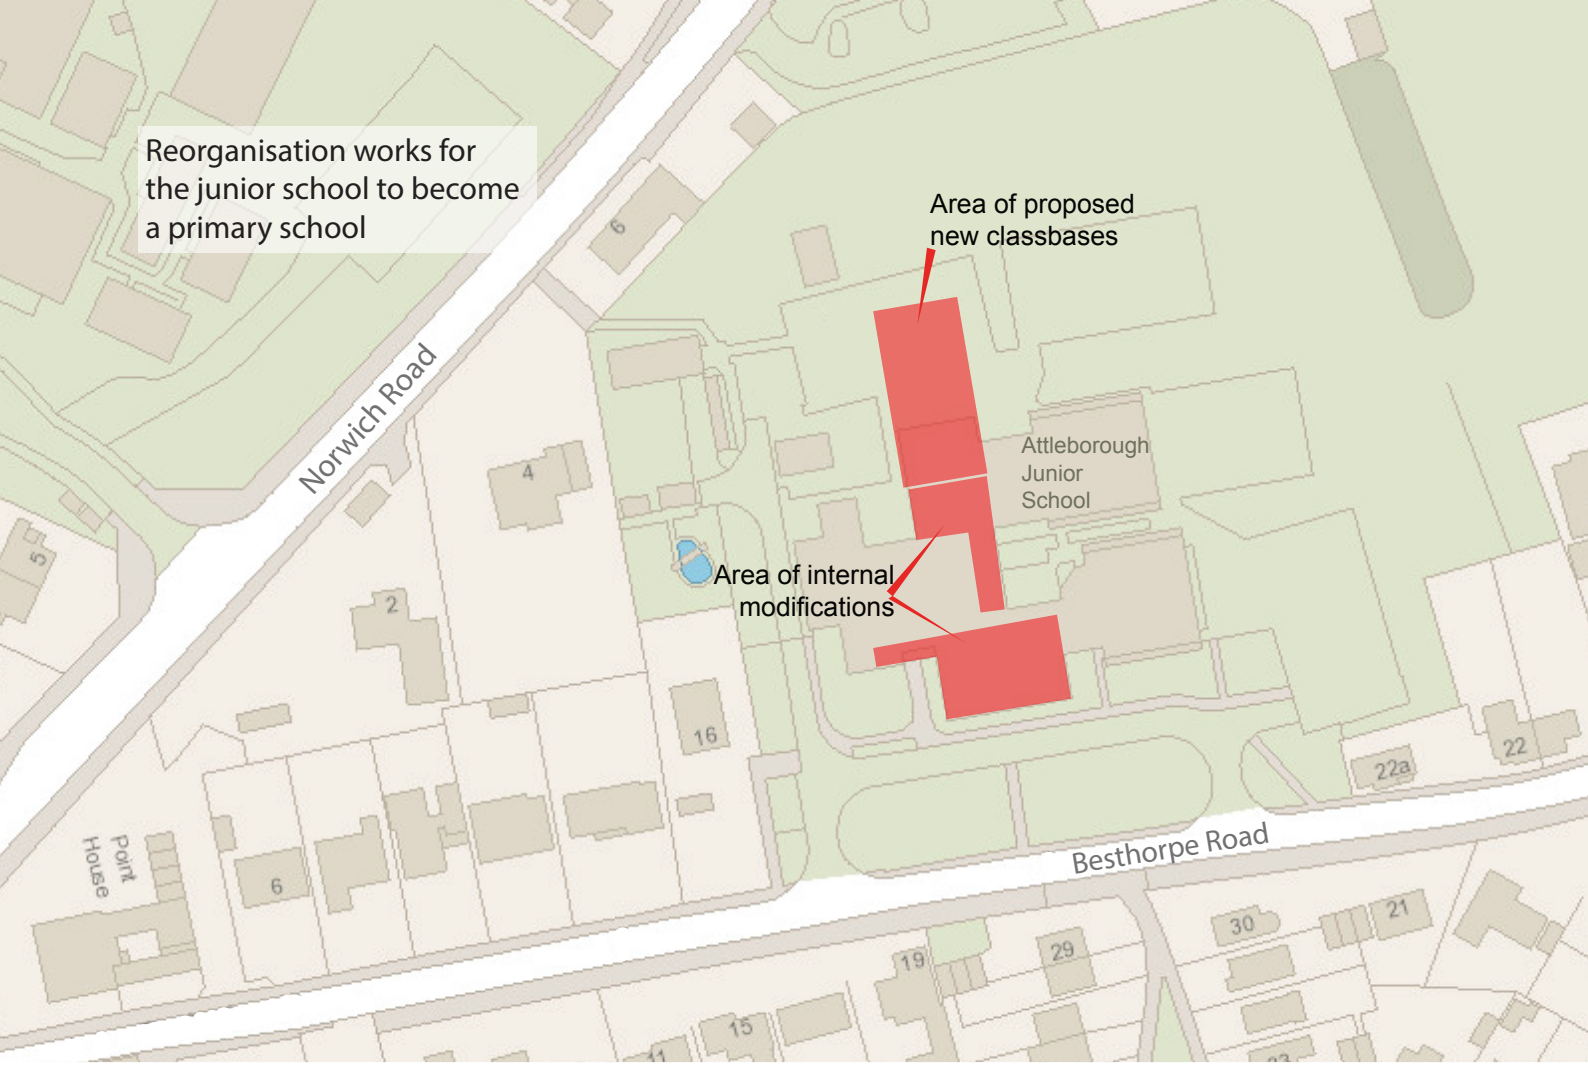

To allow parents and residents an opportunity to view these proposals two exhibition events have been arranged. The first of these drop-in events will be in the school hall at Attleborough Infants School on the 24th February and a second event will take place in the hall of the Junior school on the 9th March. Both these events will start at 2pm and will finish at 6pm and will be open to parents and residents. The proposed plans for both the schemes will be on view and representatives from the schools, Children's Services and NPS will be on hand to discuss the proposals.

If you are unable to attend either event, but would still like to view the proposals, the display boards will remain at the schools until Easter. If you would like to contact one of the schools to view the boards please call them and they will try to accommodate any reasonable request to view the proposals. The schools' contact details are below:
