If we go ahead with the proposal:

- St Edmund's Academy will move to a new school building.
- This building will be on the Lynnsport development.
- It is still subject to planning permission.
- The move to the new school building would be September 2019 at the earliest
- The school will be bigger, with up to 420 children.
- The school could get bigger, if needed.
- There will be a nursery at the new school building.

- Highgate Infant School is a small school with 88 children
- The new school building at Lynnsport is very close to Highgate Infant School
